Freedom of Information: Right to know request

Thank you for your request for information in relation to Amateur Radio Callsigns. We received this request on 6 February 2023. We have considered it under the Freedom of Information Act 2000 (the “FOI Act”).

Your request

I wish to request an up to date listing of the current UK Amateur Radio call sign allocation status, please. The listing might present call signs as allocated, reserved, unavailable, or available - actual presentation logic isn't important provided it is unambiguous. The listing could be in any reasonable, simple format, such as CSV.

I'm specifically requesting an up to date listing as I'm aware of some perception amongst the Amateur Radio community that data provided in response to similar recent data requests might not actually have been as up to date as the release date might otherwise suggest.

Our response

I am pleased to advise that you can find the information you have requested in a recently published Freedom of Information request about Amateur Radio Callsigns and the annex, an up-to-date list of Amateur Radio Callsigns.

I hope this information is helpful. If you have any queries, then please contact information.requests@ofcom.org.uk. Please remember to quote the reference number above in any future communications.

Yours sincerely,

Temiloluwa Dawodu

If you are unhappy with the response you have received in relation to your request for information and/or consider that your request was refused without a reason valid under the law, you may ask for an internal review. If you ask us for an internal review of our decision, it will be subject to an independent review within Ofcom.

The following outcomes are possible:

- the original decision is upheld; or
- the original decision is reversed or modified.

Timing

If you wish to exercise your right to an internal review, you should contact us within two months of the date of this letter. There is no statutory deadline for responding to internal reviews and it will depend upon the complexity of the case. However, we aim to conclude all such reviews within 20 working days, and up to 40 working days in exceptional cases. We will keep you informed of the progress of any such review. If you wish to request an internal review, you should contact information.requests@ofcom.org.uk.

If you are not content with the outcome of the internal review, you have the right to apply directly to the Information Commissioner for a decision. The Information Commissioner can be contacted at:
