Freedom of Information request: Right to know request

Thank you for your request for information about complaints regarding 4com Technologies Ltd.

We received this request on 26 April 2024 and we have considered your request under the Freedom of Information Act 2000 (“the FOI Act”).

Your request

How many complaints did OFCOM receive in the year 2020/21 regarding the telecommunications company 4com Technologies Ltd?

How many complaints did OFCOM receive in the year 2021/22 regarding the telecommunications company 4com Technologies Ltd?

How many complaints did OFCOM receive in the year 2022/23 regarding the telecommunications company 4com Technologies Ltd?

I would like the information to be provided to me as an electronic copy.

If it is not possible to provide the information requested due to the information exceeding the cost of compliance limits identified in section 12, please provide advice and assistance under your Section 16 obligations, as to how I can refine my request to be included in the scope of the act.

Our response

By way of background, Ofcom publishes certain data relating to complaints about the largest telecommunications (telecoms) providers on a quarterly basis to further the interests of consumers. You may access the Telecoms and pay-TV complaints data - Ofcom for 2022 and 2023 on our website. For complaints data relating to previous years, please refer to the National Archives website: The National Archives.

In response to your request, we can neither confirm or deny whether we hold the information you have requested as we consider this data is exempt from disclosure under section 44 of the FOI Act. By virtue of section 44(2) of the FOI Act, the duty to confirm or deny holding information does not arise if the confirmation or denial that would be given would be prohibited by/under any enactment. We are prohibited under section 393 of the Communications Act 2003 from disclosing information which relates to a business, in this case 4com Technologies Ltd, which we have obtained in exercise of our powers, unless we have the consent of that business or one of the statutory gateways for disclosure under section 393(2) of the Act is met, neither of which applies here. Section 44 is an absolute exemption and does not require a public interest test.

I hope this information is helpful. If you have any further queries, then please send them to information.requests@ofcom.org.uk – quoting the reference number above in any future communications.

Yours sincerely,

Information Requests

Request an internal review

If you are unhappy with the response you have received to your request for information, or think that your request was refused without a reason valid under the law, you may ask for an internal review. If you do, it will be subject to an independent review within Ofcom. We will either uphold the original decision, or reverse or modify it.

If you would like to ask us to carry out an internal review, you should get in touch within two months of the date of this letter. There is no statutory deadline for us to complete our internal review, and the time it takes will depend on the complexity of the request. But we will try to complete the review within 20 working days (or no more than 40 working days in exceptional cases) and keep you informed of our progress.

Please email the Information Requests team (information.requests@ofcom.org.uk) to request an internal review.

Taking it further

If you are unhappy with the outcome of our internal review, then you have the right to complain to the Information Commissioner's Office.
