Freedom of Information request: Right to know request

Thank you for your request for information about the address for Embrace Radio's studio.

We received this request on 23 January 2025 and we have considered your request under the Freedom of Information Act 2000 ("the FOI Act").

Your request

Can you please confirm the location/address of Embrace Radio Studio.

Our response

Information for Embrace Radio is available on our website, including the public contact details we hold for communications relating to the licence/licensee.

While we do hold information about other addresses associated with this licensee, we consider that disclosure of this information is exempt under the FOI Act as this information relates to a business that we regulate. In particular, section 44(1)(a) of the FOI Act exempts disclosure of information if its disclosure is prohibited under another enactment. Ofcom is prohibited under section 393 of the Communications Act 2003 ("the Communications Act") from disclosing information about a business which we have obtained in the course of exercising a power conferred by the Communications Act among others, unless we have the consent of that business or one of the statutory gateways under section 393(2) of the Communications Act is met, neither of which applies here. Section 44 is an absolute exemption and therefore is not subject to a public interest test.

We hope this information is helpful. If you have any further queries, then please send them to information.requests@ofcom.org.uk – quoting the reference number above in any future communications.

Yours sincerely,

Request an internal review

If you are unhappy with the response you have received to your request for information, or think that your request was refused without a reason valid under the law, you may ask for an internal review. If you do, it will be subject to an independent review within Ofcom. We will either uphold the original decision, or reverse or modify it.

If you would like to ask us to carry out an internal review, you should get in touch within two months of the date of this letter. There is no statutory deadline for us to complete our internal review, and the time it takes will depend on the complexity of the request. But we will
