

Satellite (earth station network) radio licence application form: non-geostationary – OfW602

Who should use this form?

You may use this form to apply for, amend or surrender a non-geostationary satellite (earth station network) licence in the United Kingdom. For geostationary satellite networks, please use application form OfW103.

Conditions

Under the Wireless Telegraphy Act 2006, you must have a licence issued by Ofcom before you establish or use any earth station radio equipment unless it is authorised by a specific exemption.

Communication preference

Where possible, all correspondence will be sent to licensees electronically.

If you do not wish to receive documents electronically, you must opt out by ticking the box against each contact to receive correspondence by post.

Completing this form

Before completing this application form, you are advised to read the additional guidance. Ofcom intends to publish applications for this licence to allow other parties to provide information regarding interference or the competitive impact. Before publishing, Ofcom will redact the personal information contained in this form. You also have the option to provide confidential information in answer to the questions in Section D.

When completing this application please refer to the notes and complete in dark ink in BLOCK CAPITALS.

All fields are mandatory unless stated otherwise.

Payment

Payments should not be included with this application. Ofcom will invoice later. Payments must include all bank charges. If Ofcom does not receive full payment, it will return any partial payments received.

Important

When making a new application, you are advised not to commit to the purchase of the equipment until you have received your licence documentation.

The Wireless Telegraphy (licence charges) regulations set out the fees for licences to use equipment issued under the Wireless Telegraphy Act. Information about earth station licence fees can be found on the Ofcom website: <https://www.ofcom.org.uk/data/assets/pdf/file/0020/27461/fees.pdf>

How Ofcom handles personal data

We require this information in order to carry out our spectrum licensing duties under the Wireless Telegraphy Act 2006.

Please see Ofcom's General Privacy Statement for further information about how Ofcom handles your personal information and your corresponding rights: www.ofcom.org.uk/about-ofcom/foi-dp/general-privacy-statement

When we receive an application, we intend to publish a redacted version of it on Ofcom's website.

Radio licence fees

The licence fee should only be paid to Ofcom after you have been invoiced. The licensee must pay the relevant fee as provided for by section 12 of the WT Act and the Regulations that have been made under that section. If you fail to pay the licence fee, Ofcom may revoke the licence.

The remainder of these guidance notes provide advice on specific questions.

SECTION B – Customer details

Question B1a – Existing customers

If you already hold an Ofcom radio licence, you should write your customer reference number in the box provided. Your customer reference number will be quoted in licence documentation or correspondence that we have previously sent to you.

Question B1b – Harmonising a licence

Ofcom can align invoices for similar licence products to one consolidated date. This makes invoicing and payments easier to manage.

The conditions for harmonising a licence are:

- The licence must be under an existing customer reference number;
- Must be the same licence product;
- Must have identical payment terms (e.g. every 5 years);
- Must have an identical payment contact; and
- Must be no outstanding invoice against the licence.

Question B2 – New customers

A licence can only be issued to a legal entity. You should complete the appropriate option provided or if these are not appropriate then provide your details under other legal entities. For a partnership, please give the full name of one partner and supply a list of all other partners. The main partner is also required to sign the declaration in Section E.

Question B3 – Licensee address

If you are applying on behalf of a Limited Company, a Public Limited Company or a Registered Charity, the registered address of the organisation must be used. The licensee will receive all licensing documentation and correspondence.

Question B4 – Licence contact name and address

This can be an additional contact who should also receive licensing documentation and correspondence.

Question B5 – Payment and billing contact

The payment (billing) contact can be different to either the licensee or licence contact.

Question B6 – Third-party contact

If the licence is being handled by a third-party contact such as a radio supplier, technical contact or consultant, then this can be provided.

SECTION C – Site details

Question C1 – Earth station details

You should provide the type of earth station network (e.g. specify whether the earth stations are “fixed” or “vehicle-mounted” etc) and a name for the earth station network (e.g. “My Network 1”).

Question C2 – Satellite details

You should provide the name of the non-geostationary satellite network.

Question C3 – Telephone number in the event of an emergency

You should provide the phone number to contact in case of an emergency.

SECTION D - Additional information

Except for question D.3, all questions are mandatory. Further help and guidance in answering these questions can be found here.

We will accept the information in all types of commonly used formats. If you wish to use other formats, for example technical models or specialised software files, please check with Ofcom first.

If you wish parts of your additional information to be kept confidential, please submit two separate annexes: a confidential annex containing all the additional information; and a separate non-confidential annex containing the additional information that Ofcom can publish with your application.

Question D1 – Coexistence with existing systems

This is a multipart question for explaining how your proposed non-geostationary earth station(s) (“User terminals”) will be able to coexist with the following:

- Existing non-geostationary satellite systems that are licensed in the UK;
- Non-geostationary satellite systems for which a licence application has been made and which has been published for comment on Ofcom’s website;
- Other specific co-frequency earth stations registered with the ITU.

Information about the above systems can be found on Ofcom’s website.

Question D2 – Coexistence with future systems

You need to state what flexibility your User terminals have to coexist with future non-geostationary satellite systems. You should include measures you would be able to put in place if another non-geostationary satellite system were to enter the market in the future, and the expected benefits of such measures.

Also state what measures future non-geostationary satellite systems could reasonably be expected to put in place to coexist with your User terminals.

Question D3 – Competitive impact (optional)

This is a multipart, optional question for explaining the impact of issuing you a licence (combined with other non-geostationary satellite system licences held or applied for by you) in terms of:

- Any risks to competition in the UK. This may refer to the ability to coexist with other non-geostationary satellite systems.
- Benefits for UK customers, end consumers and/or citizens.
