As someone who uses a provider where I get 12 hours of unlimited calls (premium rate numbers are banned) to all numbers except 0845 & 0870 numbers. These two latter numbers are charged to my B.T account and therefore I am having to pay extra for the call. I object to this as those numbers should be included in my "allowance". If organisations wish to have non geographical numbers a geographical number should be shown also.

Doubt any notice will be taken of this email and other comments made by individuals – most likely the communications heads and members of Ofcom belong to the same lodge
