

Response from Mr Nicholas West

Question 1:What are your views on the strategic principles that Ofcom proposes to apply to its numbering policy decisions? : I am most concerned about the so called local and national rate numbers 0845 and 0870 mostly also the other related numbers 0871 0844 etc. I have great difficulty knowing what the cost to call these numbers is.

Question 2:What do you think are consumers? key current views on numbering, how do you think those views will change, and how should Ofcom?s current decisions take those changes into account?

Same answer given to this and all other questions as to Question 1.
