1. Overview

You should complete this form if you are applying for a community digital sound programme licence (“C-DSP”). You can find further information about C-DSP services in the guidance notes for licensees and applicants.

This application form is divided into two parts – Part A (which we will publish on our website) and Part B (which will be kept confidential). This document constitutes Part A; Part B of the application form is available on our website.

If you encounter any issues using these forms, please contact broadcast.licensing@ofcom.org.uk.

The purpose of this form

- 1.1 You should complete this form if you are applying for a Community Digital Sound Programme (C-DSP) licence.
- 1.2 A digital sound programme service intended for broadcast by means of a local or small-scale radio multiplex service requires either a C-DSP licence or a local DSP licence. Ofcom’s published guidance notes set out some of the key issues that potential applicants need to consider in deciding which type of licence is suitable for them. In summary, C-DSP services are not run for financial gain and are required to provide social gain. C-DSP licences therefore include strict conditions to ensure that happens, and provide less flexibility than a local DSP licence. However, they do provide access to capacity that small-scale radio multiplex service providers are required to reserve solely for C-DSP services.
- 1.3 A C-DSP licence will be required even if the same programme service is also provided on any other platforms (e.g. FM, satellite), as separate licences are required for those.
- 1.4 As noted above, small-scale radio multiplex services will have reserved capacity for C-DSP services. Issue of a C-DSP licence does not, however, guarantee carriage on a small-scale (or local) radio multiplex service. That is a matter for agreement between the C-DSP licensee and the multiplex service provider, and there may be more C-DSP licences issued in a locality than there are reserved slots on the small-scale radio multiplex service. Note that a C-DSP service does not necessarily have to broadcast using reserved capacity. It can use unreserved capacity on a small-scale radio multiplex service or capacity on a local radio multiplex service, again subject to agreement with the multiplex service provider.
- 1.5 An application for a C-DSP licence will be accepted only once Ofcom has advertised the licence for the small-scale radio multiplex service upon which the proposed C-DSP service is intended to be provided. There is no closing-date by which an application for a C-DSP licence must be submitted (i.e. it can be submitted at any time after the licence for the relevant small-scale radio multiplex licence has been advertised).
- 1.6 You can find further information about how to determine if a service requires a C-DSP licence in Section 2 of the guidance notes for applicants and licensees.

Provision of information

- 1.7 Ofcom requires complete and accurate information to assess applications. This is so that we can assess your application against statutory criteria, consider whether those involved in the body applying for a licence are ‘fit and proper’ to hold a licence, and determine whether their involvement with other organisations disqualifies them from participation in a licence.
- 1.8 It is an offence under the Broadcasting Act 1996 (as amended) to provide false information or withhold relevant information during the application process, and may be grounds for revocation of a licence subsequently granted.

Publication of information about applications and licensed services

- 1.9 Information provided in Part A of the application form will typically be published by Ofcom in our Monthly Radio Update publication the month following the submission of your application. This may take longer if the application is received late in the month. Information provided in Part B will not be published.
- 1.10 In submitting this application you agree that, should a licence be granted, Ofcom may publish contact details for the licensee (specified in Section 2 of Part B of the application form), which may include personal data, on the Ofcom website and/or in other relevant publications. If you have any questions about the information that we publish, or there are any changes to this information, you should contact the Broadcast Licensing team by email (broadcast.licensing@ofcom.org.uk).
- 1.11 Ofcom considers issued C-DSP licences to be public documents and copies of licences will be made available to third parties on request albeit, other than the Key Commitments which are tailored to the service, C-DSP licences are standard form documents. A brief description of the licensed service will be published on the Ofcom website, along with the Key Commitments which form part of the licence.
- 1.12 Ofcom publishes a monthly radio licensing update which lists new services licensed, new applications, licences revoked, licence transfers, and changes to licensed services during the past month.

Data protection

- 1.13 We require the information requested in this form in order to carry out our licensing duties under the Broadcasting Act 1990, Broadcasting Act 1996 and Communications Act 2003. Please see Ofcom’s General Privacy Statement for further information about how Ofcom handles your personal information and your corresponding rights.

Keeping up to date with broadcasting matters

- 1.14 We strongly recommend that the appropriate person at the applicant body signs up to receive Ofcom's regular email updates on broadcasting matters including notification when the Broadcast and On Demand Bulletin is published.
- 1.15 To sign up to receive these communications, you must visit the email updates area of our website and select 'Broadcasting.'

2. Applicant's details

About this section

In this section we are asking you for details about the applicant company. This must be a body corporate which is not profit distributing.

In the first part of this section, we are asking for basic details about the applicant. These include company registration number and contact information.

It also asks questions which are relevant to our assessment of the applicant's fitness and propriety to hold a C-DSP licence.

Before completing this section of the form, you should read Ofcom's guidance on the definition of 'control' of media companies. Throughout this section, "control" has the meaning it is given in Part I of Schedule 2 of the Broadcasting Act 1990.

The response boxes and tables should be expanded or repeated where necessary, or provided in a separate annex.

'Officerships' in this section refers to: directorships of bodies corporate, designated memberships of LLPs, or membership of a governing body of an unincorporated association (including partnerships).

3. The proposed service

About this section

This section asks you to describe your proposed service, including the Key Commitments you propose to include in your licence. This includes your service name, multiplex name and character of service, in addition to standard commitments that all C-DSP licensees need to abide by. Holders of an existing analogue community radio licence to be a simulcast on the proposed C-DSP service can replicate the existing analogue key commitments as it is our expectation that the key commitments for simulcast services are to be in keeping with one another. If a licence is granted, the information you provide in this section will be used to form the basis of the annex to your licence. You will only be authorised to broadcast what is detailed in the annex of the licence.

In this section, you will also need to set out how your service will provide social gain, community participation and how you will be accountable to the target community. This is in line with statutory requirements for the granting of C-DSP licences. The information provided in this section is also the basis on which decisions are made.

If you hold, or intend to hold, multiple C-DSP licences, the answers given in this section and the intended delivery of your Key Commitments must apply to the locality in which your proposed service will broadcast (as set out in the Draft Key Commitments in this application form).

Your proposed service and target community

3.1 What is the proposed service name?

Churnet Sound

3.2 On which radio multiplex service do you intend to broadcast? If the relevant radio multiplex licence has not yet been awarded, please state the name of the area that the multiplex service is intended to cover, as defined in the multiplex licence advertisement.

Congleton - Leek

3.3 Where is your proposed studio located? Please note that this must be located within the coverage area of the small-scale radio multiplex service identified in answer to 5.2 (or the advertised area for a small-scale radio multiplex service that has not yet been awarded).³

³ If you propose to provide your service on a local, rather than a small-scale, radio multiplex service, there is no requirement for your studio to be located within the licensed area of that local radio multiplex service.

Churner Sound Radio, BYCZ, Church Road, Biddulph, Staffs

- 3.4 If the proposed service is a simulcast or corresponding service of an existing licensed radio service, please list that below and provide the licence number.

N/A

- 3.5 What is the target community of the service? Please include the geographical area that you wish to serve in addition to the interests or characteristics that define your target community. The area you wish to serve must be geographically located within the coverage area of the radio multiplex service on which you intend to broadcast. Answer in fewer than 400 words.

- We intend to offer a full community radio service to people living within the Leek – Congleton – Biddulph geographical area, which constitutes the majority of the rural Staffordshire Moorlands and the Cheshire borders around Congleton. Whilst we wish to serve all members of the community, we are particularly focused on the issues of social isolation and rural deprivation and don't just intend to work with a wide range of community organizations in order to do this; we are already doing so and have an established track record of success. As a fully – operational online station we already have a demonstrable record of working with the likes of Biddulph Youth Community Zone, the Local People's Project, New Era Victim Support, Old Sawmill Community Cafe, Staffordshire Trading Standards, Local NSPCC, Samaritans, Staffordshire Breast Cancer Support and Biddulph Town Council amongst others as broadcast partners.
- As can be seen from the supporting materials we have provided, there is considerable enthusiasm and support for our intended community broadcast service. We intend to provide a full local news service as we have throughout our period of operation as an online – only service, and have enlisted the assistance of an experienced radio journalist to help us provide this service
- We have made sure our studios are disability compliant and fully accessible and for this we are indebted to our volunteer coordinator, who is himself registered as seriously visually impaired and to Biddulph Town Council who have gone out of their way to support us in this community enterprise, not least by providing premises within the Town Hall which have enabled us to provide an accessible, high – profile and practical base for our operations.
- Our intended community 'patch' corresponds almost exactly with the advertised Congleton-Leek 'block' and we are of the community as well as operating within it. The station will always prioritize local people's interests in terms of output, and will also prioritize the input of local people when it comes to staffing and running the station. Just as it already has as an online – only entity, it intends to be of the community and for the community and this is why it has received the support it has in the stated aim of providing a SS DAB option for local radio listeners. We are delighted to have been presented with this opportunity to apply for such a licence.

3.6 How will you ensure that your proposed C-DSP service is run on a not-for-profit basis? Please give details of specific measures or arrangements in place to ensure this, and how any profit will be wholly and exclusively used for securing or improving the future provision of the service, or for the delivery of social gain. Answer in fewer than 400 words.

- In the first instance the company has been set up as a CIC as can be seen from the Companies House records. As you will be aware, this structure removes the opportunity for individuals to profit from such as enterprise and effectively obliges the directors to full disclosure of the distribution of such profits. This is in accord with our stated aim of running the station as a community organisation which is avowedly not driven by the profit motive and all that such a motive necessarily entails. The relatively modest amounts of capital expended at setup and the small shareholdings involved are another indication of this.
- All our staff are volunteers and we cannot foresee circumstances where they will not be.
- As an example of how any profits after running costs are covered will go towards developing the service and adding significantly to social gain, we have already developed a basic broadcast studio training facility which we offer to schools for use with school holiday activity packages and other training opportunities within term time. Necessarily this will entail compliance training of various kinds and this will also be funded from any profits made by the CIC, as will future equipment purchases to improve our existing OB equipment, for example.
- And we would stress at this juncture that this is happening NOW. This is not merely an aspirational statement; this is a statement of actions already taken and currently in train by an organisation which is always looking to be of service to the community from which it sprang and the needs which that community demonstrates. This is already a community broadcast organisation in action; for it to develop and grow, it needs access to a free to air conventional radio platform. We are very aware the reserved 'community' channels on an advertised multiplex are a rare and precious commodity. We respectfully request that to help boost the value of these channels to the community that our application is given serious consideration as we are already demonstrating what CAN be done in our area.

Social gain

- 3.7 What community benefits will your service bring to your target community(ies) and, if applicable, the general public. Please include summaries of evidence to support your answer, including details about other organisations you intend to work with. Answer in fewer than 500 words. Please do not provide names of individuals in your answer.

- For this we would be obliged if you would refer to the file of supporting materials we have provided for your perusal. This is just a small sample of those organisations and individuals who we will be delighted to work with to provide positive outcomes within the community. Mindful of your stipulation to avoid 'naming names' in our answer we will only refer to organisations and groups rather than individuals.
- As already mentioned our specific focus will be on social isolation and rural deprivation. We will try to give much support as possible to those organisations which, on a local level, strive to support and nurture mental health and general well – being. We've already listed a number of organisations which we would class as broadcast partners; they regularly supply us with interview guests and have virtually open access to listeners via Churnet Sound. These include Biddulph Youth Community Zone, the Local People's Project, New Era Victim Support, Old Sawmill Community Cafe, Staffordshire Trading Standards, Local NSPCC, Samaritans, Staffordshire Breast Cancer Support and Biddulph Town Council but there are many more. We have interviewed representatives of all these organisations already via our online service and will continue to offer such opportunities if granted the opportunity to access reserved space on the Leek – Congleton multiplex.
- We Broadcast from within the Community Centre, Biddulph Youth and community zone and promote and support their work in some of the more deprived areas of the Staffordshire Moorlands. We also help to promote the regeneration of the coalfield area.
- We also offer formalized and programmed opportunities for the promotion and support of these organisations. We have integrated regular 'Community Matters' spots within each hour of peak time programming (7am-7pm), promoting calls to action from our broadcast partners, be it in the form of volunteers, donated goods or the raising of awareness of services offered to local people – indeed anything short of direct appeals for cash. We also offer the 'Community Noticeboard' – a free 'What's On' event listing for charitable and community organisations to promote forthcoming community events and happenings. In designing this into our programming, we have enlisted the help and support of two of the former directors of ILR station High Peak Radio Ltd, who pioneered this method of supporting local community organisations at no cost to themselves. This will be of demonstrable use to both to those organisations but also to those who need to access their services. These services will simply be transferred across to the SS DAB service should we be given the opportunity to do so.
- As already mentioned we have built a mobile training for use in schools and colleges and if offered access to the reserved area on the SS DAB multiplex for the area, we will extend our rollout of this aspect of our offer to the community to involve after school clubs and holiday club activities.
- We broadcast appeals for local people to join the Churnet Sound team as volunteers on a regular basis and we feel that opportunities to be involved with an OFCOM – regulated broadcaster with a track record in offering a warm welcome and ease of access is one of the main 'value added' items we can contribute to social gain.

- 3.8 Please summarise how your service will facilitate discussion and the expression of opinion. Answer in fewer than 200 words.

- Guests from all walks of life representing a range of perspectives are always welcome to express themselves on Churnet Sound but we are very aware that from moving from online only to SS DAB we will fall under the regulation of OFCOM and that whereas the station management has extensive experience of working with OFCOM regulated broadcasters, some of our team will not be in that position and so we undertake to organize effective training in awareness of the broadcast codes. As an example of reflecting discussion and a range of opinion, our highly rated LGBT show, presented by a member of the local council, is typical of the ways in which we expect Churnet Sound to be representative of ALL members of the local community and typical of the inclusivity that we wish to promote. On a contrasting note, discussions involving local people on matters of local importance, for example the coronavirus pandemic and the effectiveness of local services in responding to this has been welcomed and in some cases celebrated.

- 3.9 How will you ensure that members of your target community(ies) can gain access to the facilities used to provide your service, and receive training in using these? In particular, please set out how this will be done practically, formally and/or informally. Answer in fewer than 400 words.

Our central position in one of the area's main towns and the accessibility of the studios for all (as a community centre, the building has been assessed for accessibility for people with different types of disability and limited mobility) means that we are physically easy to access. We are within a very short distance of local bus services and are in the middle of one of the area's biggest centres of population, albeit in an region of generally low population density. We are 'surrounded by chimney pots'.

On air, we broadcast numerous appeals for volunteers and all our staff are encouraged to go out of their way to present a welcoming and friendly face to anyone who visits the station.

We operate a policy of reaching out into the community and already have an excellent track record of taking part in community events and we intend for these to continue and develop if we are given the opportunity to serve the community on reserved capacity on the proposed local multiplex. For example, we took a stall at the Biddulph Artisan Market recently, and were Official Partners to Leek Show in 2021. We have interviewed and frequently feature local Patient participation groups and every month hear from a leading pharmacist from the Clinical Commissioning Group for Staffordshire. We have strong links with the Rudyard Lake league of friends and regularly do live shows from the lakeside to promote the charities actions

Practically, as well as a fully – functioning on air studio, we have a full studio 2 setup which enables interviews to be recorded off air and played out later. This also functions as our training studio and we have been involved in training on our state – of – the – art Myriad play out software not only for our own station but also for other stations as well. Not only this but because of the system's ability to function via an 'Anywhere' facility, it is possible for some presenters and programme contributors who for whatever reason cannot make it to the studio, to STILL be able to make recorded and live contributions to programming and we feel this will become an increasing advantage in an area with a number of remote and inaccessible locations, especially during periods of adverse weather and such as the difficulties of access brought about by the COVID-19 pandemic.

During School Holidays we have worked with both Staffordshire County Council and Cheshire East council to provide activities and food for free to children who are in receipt of free school meals as part of central governments HAF scheme.

- 3.10 How will your service provide better understanding of your target community and the strengthening of links within it? Answer in fewer than 200 words.

The community programming features already mentioned cannot help but do this by promoting the aims and offers made to local people by those organisations but our continuing attempts to reach out to the community and to offer help, support and in some cases to shine a spotlight on our community's positive efforts to support itself need to be mentioned here. Hosting the 'My Voice' Youth Awards is an important example of this and helping to celebrate the achievements of young people in our area; also in hosting the Support Staffordshire Volunteer Awards. Not only are we an organisation which is pleased to be 'made of' volunteers; we are happy to celebrate the function and role of the volunteer generally in our local area.

Once again our extremely popular LGBT show needs to be mentioned here. This show does much to break down preconceptions, misunderstandings and helps to build trust and mutual respect across the local community.

Our mobile training studio is regularly visiting schools and community centers, will, via training, enhance team building, language skills, social development and tap into the school curriculum via such strands as History and local Geography We have also been successful of offering free half term activities to children who receive free school meals on behalf of both Staffordshire County Council and Cheshire East Council.

- 3.11 Please summarise the relevant experience of the group or its members in activities related to the provision of social gain or other relevant non-broadcast areas (such as third sector, training or education). Answer in fewer than 200 words.

Matt Hill (Director) has extensive experience working with community organisations in arranging on-air opportunities and preparing them for making contributions to programming via his work as a director of local community station Moorlands Radio from 2015 – 2021. Joe Pointon (Director) has experience of training and working with teams of volunteers on the local heritage railway, Churnet Valley Railway as well as with volunteers for Churnet Sound. Both have participated in the Christmas lights 'switch – ons' organised by the local councils during the last few years.

Participation

- 3.12 How do you propose to ensure that members of your target community(ies) are given opportunities to participate in the operation and management of the service? Answer in fewer than 400 words.

- All volunteers are members of the target community. Both on air and via the website, local people will be left in no doubt that they are needed and will be welcomed in order to help the service succeed in the aims it has. Particular volunteer roles will be made explicit and the offer of training will, as ever, be at the heart of these opportunities. Volunteers tend to bring a range of skills and experiences and it is with this in mind that we aren't looking for a bunch of itinerant disc jockeys; we're looking for accountancy and office experience, people who are effective on the phone; people with a background in sales; people with experience in the voluntary sector in terms of training and accessing grant – aided funding. We'll welcome potential trainee journalists from local colleges; encourage schools to place us on their list for potential work experience placements once we have the relevant safeguards in place to do so.
- Above all else we recognise it is necessary for the continued development of Churnet Sound for us to stay true to the above. There is always going to be rotation in volunteer staff; people will move on, they will opt to do other things having gained a degree of enrichment, either in terms of skills, social development or experience, here at Churnet Sound. And so we will need to be constantly accessible, approachable and welcoming to ALL members of the local community if we ourselves are to thrive and flourish as an organisation.
- We continue to do outreach work with schools and community organizations in the form of our radio workshops

Accountability

- 3.13 How will members of your target community contact your service and influence its operation? Answer in fewer than 300 words.

- Technically we aim to make contact as easy as possible and offer a range of choices in terms of method. We will have a text line directly to the studio and a studio e mail address and encourage phone calls to our dedicated app. We will instigate a monthly director's review to discuss issues raised and where relevant, take action as a consequence. We will also actively explore local interest in the possibility of setting up a listener's panel to see if this gains popular support.
- Most importantly we will use our website to ensure that these methods of contact are easily available and are just a click or call away and the contact details will always be prominently displayed on the website. The use of an eye catching logo and area name has already worked wonders in establishing local broad recognition and regular on – air 'plugs' for the website and the specific 'ways to get in touch' are bound to encourage the notion of ease of access and transparency.
- And once again the point we would seek to establish is that these are not lofty claims or 'pie in the sky'. The technical means to contact us that we have mentioned ALREADY EXIST via the structures we have put in place to serve the online station which is already streaming with great success. The framework for this is already tried and tested, we already have access to the domain names and the e mail addresses; in this respect we are all but ready to go already.
- We constantly speak with and meet members of the community we serve and allow them to make comment which is then listened to to shape our service. During business hours our studio operates an open door policy and all members of the community are welcome to visit.

3.14 How will suggestions and/or criticisms from members of your target community(ies) be considered and acted upon? Answer in fewer than 300 words.

- To begin with, we are already logging output in respect of the online station in line with OFCOM requirements so in the event of a complaint, we are already complying with the regulator's requirements to record output; so evidence provision is already a given.
- Directors are ultimately responsible for the station's output and so are responsible for answering any complaints and will undertake to do so in terms of an initial response within seven days of a written complaint being made. They will then consider the implications of the complaint and this will take a variable amount of time depending on the nature of the complaint.
- Suggestions and criticisms are of course a different matter and the regulator normally has no role in these. However, this doesn't mean they are not important to local listeners and so the directors undertake to respond to such messages also within seven days barring force majeure. Suggestions and criticisms often form the bedrock of positive programming ideas and often the best response is 'well, would you like to have a go yourself at what you think we're not doing so well at?' Given training and support this can often lead to the best outcome all round! The most important aspect of this is that criticisms and suggestions are treated with respect and given proper consideration by the directors and volunteer staff who are part of the delivery of the part of the service in question and the outcomes of this consideration are clearly communicated to the listener.

Draft Key Commitments

Below is an example of the licence annex where the Key Commitments appear. Should a licence be awarded, the entries you provide below will form the Key Commitments section of your licence. Holders of a community radio analogue licence that is to be simulcast, or a corresponding service, are expected to provide key commitments that are in line with their existing service(s). As such, applicants may refer to the existing key commitments of the relevant simulcast or corresponding service(s) to ensure that the draft below is in line with those of the existing service(s).

Please provide entries where specified in BOLD below. The information you enter here should reflect your answers to Sections 3 and 4 of the Part A of your completed Application Form. This will form the basis of your Key Commitments alongside the mandatory text in italics. Do not amend the text in italics as every service is required to comply with these requirements, but the details of how each service does so do not need to be included in the Key Commitments.

4. Compliance of the service

About this section

This section asks you to describe the compliance arrangements for the proposed licensed service, i.e. the arrangements which the applicant will put in place to ensure that the content it proposes to broadcast will comply with the relevant regulatory codes and rules for programming and advertising. These include:

- The Ofcom Broadcasting Code
- The BCAP Code: the UK Code of Broadcast Advertising
- The Phone-paid Services Authority Code of Practice

Condition 17 of a C-DSP licence requires that you have compliance procedures in place, and this section asks that you demonstrate your ability to meet this licence condition.

Before completing this section of the form you should read Section 4 of the C-DSP guidance notes, where you will also find links to the codes and rules listed above.

- 4.1 Please give details of all compliance training (including dates) the person named in response to either question 2.3 or 2.5 in Part B (i.e. the individual who holds overall responsibility for compliance of the service) has received in the relevant codes and rules (for example, those referred to in the box at the start of this section).

Both Directors (M Hill & J Pointon) of the company regularly receive regulatory industry training and updates as required.

All on air personnel and volunteers also receive 6 monthly Legal and BCAP training and updates as required.

At present we do not run any Phone Paid Services on the station , but if this situation changed we would of course comply and deliver the relevant training compliance.

- 4.2 Please give details of any practical compliance experience (including dates) the person named in response to either question 2.3 or 2.5 in Part B (i.e the individual who holds overall responsibility for compliance of the service) has with respect to the relevant codes and rules.

Only last week 28/06/22 we ran a Legal Training and Compliance session at our new station offices. Both M Hill & J Pointon have worked professional at 2 Radio Stations and in the past received several years worth of training from an Ex BBC Manager & Consultant.

- 4.3 For each role within your compliance team please provide job title and a brief description of the functions of the role specific to ensuring compliance of the proposed service. Please do not give names of individual members of staff – this question relates to job roles rather than currently employed individuals.

- Programme Controller - Listens closely to the output daily to ensure all presenters comply with all rules and regulations. He also holds monthly show review meetings with the On Air teams and board of directors to review all our commitments are being met.
- Technical Director - Works along side Programme controller and listens to output daily. He also ensures that we are compliant and currently have 3 independent station loggers recording our output. We also have various other technologies in place to ensure compliance can be checked and logged.

- 4.4 How does the applicant intend to formally train staff in compliance procedures? Please include details of the compliance training that will be given to those responsible for live programming, including compliance staff, presenters and producers.

All Compliance and Legal training is delivered at 6 monthly sessions as a group

4.5 Will the training described in response to question 4.5 be mandatory for all staff and volunteers? If not, outline who will receive it.

Yes ALL station staff & volunteers will be required to receive the training regardless of their position

4.6 It is a licence requirement that a licensee must ensure that all programming on its service (broadcast at any time of the day or night) complies with Ofcom's codes and rules (e.g. Ofcom's Broadcasting Code, which sets requirements on standards to be observed in programme content for the protection of the public).

- a) Set out in detail below the systems the applicant intends to have in place to ensure it will be able to comply with the codes and rules when the service is broadcasting live content. Your response should include details of what you will do to prepare presenters and guests pre-broadcast and the process for ensuring that any non-complaint content is dealt with swiftly during the broadcast.

Before any presenter is permitted on air they will be subject to a rigorous induction which includes the acceptance and acknowledgement of all our policies and procedures.

Once a presenter has been inducted they will shadow one of our senior presenters (normally a company Director or Manager) for 1 month to ensure we are confident of their ability and understanding and importance of rules, regulations and what is required of them.

If a presenter was to breach any of the Ofcom or Internal policies or rules they would be removed from our schedule with immediate effect and subject to our disciplinary policy. A full investigation would follow and they would not be allowed on air until the investigation was concluded. The severity and nature of the breach would then be considered alongside the results of the investigation. The most likely outcome would be expulsion from the station, as we have a zero tolerance on rule breaking and expect all our team to comply with our rules and Ofcom regulations.

We would also work with Ofcom to assist them with their investigation.

- b) Set out in detail below how the applicant intends to ensure that pre-recorded material will comply with Ofcom's codes and rules. Pre-recorded content could include, for example, material obtained from, or streamed from, third party sources as well as content produced by the licensee.

All pre-recorded material will be listened to in full by 2 members of the team and signed off before approved for air. All our output is produced locally by our own team.

- 4.7 Please set out how you will ensure ongoing compliance with your Key Commitments that relate to what you will broadcast on the station, including how you will monitor that these are being delivered e.g. who will be responsible for monitoring this, how often will they monitor it, how you ensure this information is published.

2 Board directors monitor the output on a daily basis and if a show or presenter is not hitting all our key commitments they are pulled in for a meeting and retraining if required.

All presenters and show producers are required to submit a detailed show plan every 3 months that confirms any key commitments are being met.

- 4.8 Please set out how you will ensure ongoing compliance with your Key Commitments that relate to the station's off-air social gain activities, including how you will monitor that these are being delivered e.g. who will be responsible for monitoring this, how often will they monitor it, how you ensure this information is published.

We have a Community Engagement officer who is responsible for a team of 3 whose job it is to Monitor , Organise , Review and build our stations off air social gain projects.

A weekly meeting with the Directors ensures our goals and social gain projects are as effective , achieving and performing.

Churnet Sound Radio CIC works along side Staffordshire County County , Cheshire East Council and several community groups delivering School Radio WorkShops for children aged 5 - 16yrs & Adults with additional needs to help with their wellbeing in our TSA.

- 4.9 What language(s) does the applicant intend to broadcast in?

English

- 4.10 For each language listed in response to question 4.9 please provide details of how many compliance team member(s) are fluent in each language and will be responsible for ensuring that content broadcast in that language complies with the Ofcom's code and rules.
Please do not give names of individual members of staff.
